² If the navigable water is not subject to the ebb and flow of the tide and included on the District’s list of Rivers and Harbors Act Section 10 navigable waters list, do NOT use this document to make the determination. The District must continue to follow the procedure outlined in 33 CFR part 329.14 to make a Rivers and Harbors Act Section 10 navigability determination.

³ A stand-alone TNW determination is completed independently of a request for an AJD. A stand-alone TNW determination is conducted for a specific segment of river or stream or other type of waterbody, such as a lake, where independent upstream or downstream limits or lake borders are established. A stand-alone TNW determination should be completed following applicable guidance and should NOT be documented on the AJD form.

⁴ Some excluded waters, such as (b)(2) and (b)(4), may not be specifically identified on the AJD form unless a requestor specifically asks a Corps district to do so. Corps Districts may, in case-by-case instances, choose to identify some or all of these waters within the review area.

B. Typical year assessment(s): A typical year occurs over a rolling thirty year period and includes the analysis of precipitation and other climatic variables to establish a normal period range (seasonally or annually) for a specific geographic region where the aquatic resource occurs. One point-in-time data source, 25 September 2020 (Dry Season), with a corresponding APT report, were included in the evaluation for the excluded features onsite. The antecedent precipitation tool was utilized to determine typical year for point-in-time data sources. Wetland adjacency was assessed on 25 September 2020. Based on the antecedent precipitation tool, 25 September 2020 is included during the WebWIMP dry season and has a Palmer Drought Severity Index of 1.10 mild wetness. The 30-day rolling total for precipitation was slightly lower than the 30-year normal range. Site conditions are slightly lower than the typical year conditions. The wetlands would have no adjacency even if site conditions were wetter due to the fact they are wetland fringes of the onsite ponds that are non-jurisdictional features and have no connections to A(2)-A(4) waters. Additionally, the ephemeral features onsite were documented to be dry.
